Figure 2 Implementation of a pilot cutaneous leishmaniasis laboratory network Choosing Ilam and Razavi Khorasan as anthroponotic and zoonotic CL endemic regions Identifying the Developing a standard Developing questionnaires, responsibilities of the 3 diagnostic guideline for guidelines, and checklists levels cutaneous leishmaniasis Identifying relapsed, Implementing CL laboratory Organizing educational resistant, and treatment network in selected regions workshops in provincial failure cases in selected and supervision and centers monitoring for 2 years (KAP study, 6) regions Determining the dominant Determining the strengths, Orginizing educational Leishmania species in each of weaknesses and limitations of workshops in cities the selected provinces the network Investigating the possibility of implementing Developing an operational it in other endemic areas of the country and plan for provinces and proposing the integration of laboratory diagnosis of leishmaniasis in the network system respected cities