Health, Environment and Climate Change Ministerial Meeting

COP22, Blue Zone, Moroccan pavilion

Tuesday 15 November, 14:30-16:30

The Paris Agreement, adopted on 12 December 2015, marks the beginning of a new era in the global response to climate change. The world now has a global climate treaty, that will become a public health treaty as countries take action. As stated in the agreement, “the right to health”, will be central to the actions taken going forward.

Meeting objective

The Health, Environment and Climate Change Ministerial Meeting will bring together Ministers of Environment and Ministers of Health, COP22 and key stakeholders to promote healthier environments for healthier people.

Expected outcomes

- Marrakech declaration on Health, Environment and Climate Change
- Identification of ways and means for a potential future coalition on Health, Environment and Climate Change.
- Proposal for ensuring that health is considered a priority and criterion for allocation of environmental and climate finance.
