عيد مبارك

Dear Readers,

Eid-ul-Adha Mubarak! Let me start by appreciating you for adhering to the COVID-19 precautions. It has been a long fight but we are not there yet. The outbreak persists in Pakistan, and it is being further compounded by the presence of Variants of Concern. It is important to remain vigilant and move from reacting to surges in COVID-19 cases to a way of life that is marked by consistent adherence to recommended precautions. This is also true for those who are partially and fully vaccinated.

To protect yourself and others, always follow these six precautions:

Wear a mask

Clean your hands

Cough or sneeze into your elbow

Keep your distance

Open windows

Get vaccinated when it's your turn

As we celebrate the Eid festival, I urge you to continue to follow these precautions and encourage family and friends to adopt them.

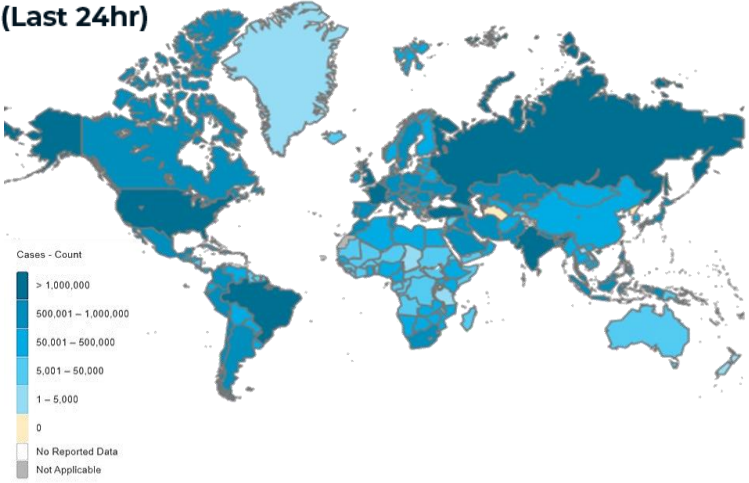

With best regards

You can be sick but not showing symptoms, putting others at risk

- ✓ Always wear your mask
- ✓ Avoid attending Eid ul-Adha prayers and gatherings if you feel unwell
- ✓ Encourage friends and family who are over 60 years of age or have other health conditions to stay at home

During Eid ul-Adha prayers, family visits and banquets, maximise safety measures against COVID-19 by:

Shortening events to limit exposure

Physical distancing, including when praying

Reporting contacts if an ill person is identified among attendees

Regulating flow of people at entrances and exits
